SECOND MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT

This One Relates to Our Foreign Relations.

INTIMATES RUSSIA MAY YIELD

Nation's Chief Optimistic Over Passports Matter—Tells Also of Sending Troops to Defend Border of Mexico.

Washington, Dec. 8.—President Taft sent a message to congress on the foreign relations of the United States, and reviewed at length developments in world politics during the last year. The part which is expected to arouse the greatest interest refers to the negotiations with Russia concerning the treatment of certain classes of citizens of the United States. The president gives assurance to the legislative branch that progress is being made and asserts that he expects to send in a message on this subject soon after Christmas. This is considered as an intimation that Russia may yield.

The policy of the executive when the revolution started in Mexico is reviewed thoroughly and documents are quoted to show that the only object of the United States was to be ready, through having a force near the Mexican border, to rush aid to American citizens in that country if it should become necessary.

Strong efforts were made to avoid armed interference when the warfare was carried too near American towns. The result is summarized by Mr. Taft when he says that relations with Mexico have been improved and that while the revolution lasted violence against American citizens residing in that country was checked through the salutary influence of the nearness of United States troops.

President Taft recommends the enactment of a law providing for the fulfillment of obligations assumed by the United States in connection with the settlement of the fur-seal controversy and the passage of a law to forbid the carriage of opium and other "habit-forming drugs" in interstate commerce.

A feature of the message is a strong appeal to legislation to extend the civil service to all parts of the diplomatic service. The president recommends also that the present tariff act be amended so that its maximum and minimum features, designed to prevent undue discriminations against American commerce, could be graduated to meet varying degrees of discrimination such as have been encountered since the present lay was passed.

Whiff of Poison Kills.

New York, Dec. 8.—A whiff of hydrocyanic acid gas, one of the most deadly poisons known to chemistry, caused the instant death of Arthur H. Keelker, a young German chemist, in the G. Lyle laboratory connected with the Roosevelt hospital.

FORECAST OF THE WEATHER

Wisconsin—Generally fair today and tomorrow; moderate southerly winds.

Petoskey Clothier Fails.

Petoskey, Mich., Dec. 8.—W. E. Tuttle, proprietor of a gentlemen's furnishing store, filed a petition in bankruptcy for $8,500. Forty creditors hold notes against him, the First National bank of this city being the principal creditor. E. E. Gilbert, receiver, expects to hold a trustee sale later, and believes the funds received from the stock will cover all liabilities. Mr. Tuttle has been in business here ten years.

SAGINAW RAISING VALUES

Committee Finds Property Assessed Far Too Low.

Saginaw, Mich., Dec. 8.—In an endeavor to bring the value of Saginaw county up to the state board's figure of $54,000,000, the special committee of the supervisors started to canvass the county and ascertain where the equalized value of the townships can be raised to close the gap between the supervisors' figures of $32,000,000 on the state's.

So far the committee has secured the assessed valuation of property sold throughout the county and the price paid for it. In many instances a great difference exists. Although the committee declines to give out figures, it is known in one sale a farm was sold for $9,000 and was assessed for $3,000. Similar conditions, it is said, exist in the city. The committee will make its report at the January session of the board.

DENTON GLEANERS ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEW YEAR

The Denton Arbor of Gleaners held their annual meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Richardson Thursday. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Chief Gleaner, Asa Burrell; Vice Chief, W. L. Brown; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Walter Switzer; Chaplain, Mrs. Asa Burrell; Conductor, Fred Simpson; Conductress, Mrs. Ed Sicklefield; Lecturer, Mrs. George Palmer; Outer Guard, George Burrell; Inner Guard, Jos. Richardson.

The gleaners were served a light supper. The first meeting of next year will be held January 4 with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Burrell, at which time the officers will be formally installed.

PREACHER IS CHARGED WITH DEATH OF SIX

Portland, Maine, Dec. 8.—An indictment containing six counts, for the death of six of his followers in the cruise of the yacht Coronet, was reported today by the grand jury of the United States district court against Rev. Frank W. Sandford, the leader of the Holy Ghost and Us society. The trial for the Shilohite leader was begun immediately.

XMAS CAROL CONCERT A BIG SUCCESS

The Normal choir, under the direction of Professor Frederick Alexander, gave its annual Christmas concert Thursday evening in Normal hall, the third number on the course. The choir was assisted by Mr. William A. Kerr, baritone, of Detroit; Mrs. Annis D. Gray, contralto; Miss Vivian Gilpin, contralto; and Miss Frances Strong, organist.

The entire program was surcharged with the joyous, yet serene spirit of Christmas and was admirably rendered. The choir was heard first in a French Noel, which suggested by its quaintness and sweet primitiveness that it had been written in so early a period as the XIII century.

A small choir of sopranos and contraltos sang in French with piano accompaniment Caesar Franck's setting of a little poem of Daudet's, "La Vierge a la Creche."

The baritone solos, "The Shepherds" and "Christ, the Friend of Children," were characterized in their rendition by the splendid manner in which they were interpreted by Mr. Kerr and the long applause following his appearance evidenced the favor with which he was regarded by an appreciative audience.

Miss Gilpin was well received when she sang "An Irish Noel," written by Augusta Holmes and presented in the style of a fifteenth century Minnesong. The piano accompaniment played by Prof. Alexander suggested the lyre and vocal melody improvised to the quaint majestic ode of the poet writer.

Mrs. Gray sang "Weihnachtsfreude", a recent song by Engelbert Humperdinck. As usual, her appearance brought long applause from the audience and the appreciation of her ability was made distinctly obvious by repeated enchores.

During the early part of the program much was added to the entertaining features by two perfectly rendered organ solos by Prof. Alexander. He played "Belgian Noel" by Guilmant and "O Magnum Mysterium" by West.

The entire concert was highly entertaining and numerous expressions of appreciation of the ability of the choir as directed by Prof. Alexander and of the pleasing manner in which Miss Gilpin and Miss Gray and Mr. Kerr presented their solo parts as well as for Miss Strong at the organ were to be heard on every side.

A number of people from out of the city were here for the entertainment, among those from Detroit were Mr. and Mrs. George Huntington, Wm. B. Stratton, the Misses MacDonald, Mrs. Guy Montgomery, Miss Marjorie Locke, Miss Frances Sibley, Dr. and Mrs. Haas, Miss Andrus and Miss Crossette. Mr. Kerr returned with the party to Detroit.

SATURDAY WILL BE THE LAST DAY OF BIG SALE

With the closing of stores Saturday evening the big "Fare Refunding Sale" in Ypsilanti will end. Many special bargains are being announced for the last day and a careful perusal of this issue may save you money on just the articles that you want. Merchants are striving to make it profitable for everyone to trade in Ypsilanti, no difference where they live and the most convincing evidence that they are succeeding, rests in the fact that numerous refund slips are being presented at this office during almost every hour of the day and fares are being paid many shoppers who have come to Ypsilanti from miles around.

All day tomorrow bargains will prevail in many local stores that will pay any one to start their Christmas shopping early and the fact that shoppers here will not only save money on their purchases but at the same time save their car fare from whatever point they may choose to come, warrants the wide patronage for which preparations are being made. Ypsilanti merchants are wide awake and there is no question but that everyone will be well repaid for a shopping trip to Ypsilanti tomorrow.

Following are the merchants who will refund fares to out-of-town customers:

SAMUEL GOMPERS

Detective Burns Says He Knew the McNamaras Were Guilty.

LABOR MAKES DEFENSE

Statement by McNamara Ways and Means Committee.

Claim to Have Been Sincere in Belief that Gas and Not Dynamite Caused Explosion.

Washington, Dec. 8.—Union labor or, rather, the union leaders, made public a formal defense of their conduct toward the McNamara case.

The defense is in the form of a statement signed by the members of the McNamara ways and means committee which raised the fund in defense of the two dynamiters and given out at the American Federation of Labor.

The leaders, speaking for union labor, declare they were justified in believing that a gas instead of a dynamite explosion wrecked the building of the Los Angeles Times and in accepting the word of the McNamaras that they were not guilty. The three men who signed the statement declare solemnly that they never had a particle of knowledge of the guilt of the McNamaras until the news of their confessions were printed in the papers. They invite an investigation by the state and federal authorities and stand ready to throw open the books, records and correspondence of the American Federation of Labor.

The statement is signed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Frank Morrison, secretary; James A. Shirt, president of the building trades department, and William J. Spencer, secretary of the same department; James O'Connell, president of the metal trades department, and A. J. Berry, secretary, and John B. Lennon and Thomas F. Tracey, president and secretary of the union label trades department.

SHERMAN WANTS TO RETIRE

Vice President Does Not Hunger for Other Political Honors.

Utica, N. Y., Dec. 8.—The announcement, under a Washington date, that Vice President Sherman may become a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of New York state next year brought forth the statement here that Mr. Sherman is disposed to retire from political life at the close of his preesnt term.

This information, not directly from the vice president, came from persons closely associated with him and who know his purpose.

INFANTA EULALIE'S APOLOGY

Writes King Alfonso She Did Not Intend Slight to Him.

Madrid, Dec. 8.—King Alfonso has received a letter from the Infanta Eulalie asking him to pardon her, saying that she acted in a moment of forgetfulness. She had, she says, no intention of wounding the royal family nor any political motive.

She begs to have an opportunity of showing that she is an affectionate aunt and a true and loyal Spaniard.

Ship Is Looted.

Washington, Dec. 8.—The Italian ship Fortuna, fast on the rocks off Ocean City, Md., is being looted, according to charges preferred to Captain De Otte of the revenue cutter Onondaga.

D., J. & C. CO. PLAN DOUBLE R. R. TRACK

Right of Way Well Bought Up Between Ann Arbor and Detroit--Ypsilanti Club Men May be Inconvenienced

The project of the D., J. & C. for double-tracking its line through Ypsilanti from Detroit to Ann Arbor is reported to be about ninety per cent completed, so far as securing the right of way is concerned. That the liability of accident is to be thus reduced is welcome news to Ypsilanti people and to others using this line. But not so gratifying are some of the accompanying aspects of the proposition.

To secure a private right of way for themselves between this point and Ann Arbor the road requires a strip of land fifty-five feet wide taken off the north side of the Washtenaw Country club property, and the prospect of thus despoiling the property which the club has been for some time improving and beautifying is viewed with anything but equanimity by the club. It is reported that the D., J. & C. are willing to bear the expense of moving the club to a site further back, building cement walks, etc.,—in short, restoring it to its present condition; but it is contended by the members of the club that this would not be possible, inasmuch as they do not own enough land to accommodate the building without spoiling the links. There is to be a meeting between the Washtenaw club and the D., J. & C. Saturday morning.

Another rumor circulating quite persistently is that the electric road will change its course through the city, going up Congress street instead of traversing Washington and Cross streets. By many this is not thought to be probable, for certainly the road is patronized locally by those going to and from the Normal College and the Central school building. The quarter before eight car in the morning is invariably filled with school children. Entering into this matter also is the question of being permitted by the city to so change its course. A high city official states that the matter would have to come before the council and a franchise granted by the city to cover this change. The same official stated positively that the city would insist on local service between city points and the Normal.

The rumor that the road will start from the city west over Congress street is accompanied by the report that the stores at present occupied by Michos' candy store and the Smith Bros.' drug store will be purchased for a waiting room, the present waiting room to be used as a freight house. Mr. Michos holds a three years' lease of his building, with but one year gone, while but five years have passed since the drug store obtained a 20-year lease.

Whether the D., J. & C. will double its road further west than Ann Arbor will doubtless be settled at the next directors' meeting the sixth of January.

COLLAPSE OF BRIDGE PLUNGES NEARLY 200 TO A WATERY GRAVE

St. Petersburg, Dec. 8.—Nearly 200 workmen were today plunged into the Volga river through the collapse of a railroad bridge near Kasan.

All were drowned.

The bridge, which was in course of construction, was carried away by the pressure of ice. Only four corpses thus far have been recovered. All the towns along the lower part of the river have been warned to keep a sharp lookout for survivors, who may have been able to clamber on ice floes.

Woman Stenographer Who Played An Important Role In Bribery Inquiry During M'Namara Dynamiting Trial

MISS EULAH HITCHCOCK

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 8.—Miss Eula Hitchcock, a stenagropher employed by Sam Brown, chief detective for the state in the McNamara case, was largely responsible for the bribery investigation that resulted in the arrest of Bert H. Franklin. Miss Hitchcock, who was a confidential assistant to Brown, heard of an alleged plan to "fix" the jury, and she told her superior. A dictograph was then placed in the cell occupied by the McNamaras, and Miss Hitchcock at the other end of the wire overheard conversations that led to the arrest of Franklin.

DETECTIVE BURNS SCORES GOMPERS

Claims Labor Leader Knew McNamaras Were Guilty!

LOOKS FOR FURTHER ARRESTS

Government Now Gathering Evidence in Connection with Dynamiting Outrages that Have Occurred All Over Country Since 1906.

New York, Dec. 8.—William J. Burns, who ran down the McNamaras, came here from Philadelphia.

The detective made direct charges against Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and against other labor leaders who must have been aware, like Gompers, Burns says, of the dynamiting campaigns of the McNamaras ever since 1906.

Mr. Burns was not willing, of course, to disclose the evidence now in possession of the government, but he said that the government's investigation of dynamiting outrages, which will be carried on simultaneously in many cities, including New York, Philadelphia, Indianapolis and San Francisco, will result in the arrest of many big labor leaders. "The McNamaras," said Burns, "were only tools, entertainment committees, supplied with cash by the labor bosses to terrorize open shop employers. It is impossible to tell yet," said Burns, "how many arrests will result from the government investigation."

Talking about Gompers, Mr. Burns hit from the shoulder. He believes that Gompers did his best to get him assassinated. He says that Gompers is a bunco man, who has been deceiving his followers for years, and that it is time labor kicked Gompers out. Mr. Burns knows, he said, that Gompers was cognizant of the activities of John J. McNamara and J. B. McNamara and he knew the brothers were guilty long before they were put on trial. The men to be condemned and punished, said Burns, are the bunco men like Gompers who have permitted the American Federation of Labor to become a gang ridden, crime ridden organization.

From now on, said Burns, all of the dynamiting cases were in the hands of the United States authorities. They will cover the ground back to 1906 when the labor union dynamiters began to get results in loss of life and property.

THINK OFFICERS KNEW

Government Believes McNamaras' Actions Were Ordered by Superiors.

Indianapolis, Dec. 8.—Evidence that members of the executive board of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers were cognizant of the use of money by John J. McNamara in forwarding dynamiting plots will be furnished, it is believed, by the federal authorities by the records of the Columbia National bank in which the funds of the organization were deposited.

Every month for two years or more McNamara drew from the funds on his personal check from $500 to $1,000, the amount never less than the first named sum and never more than the second.

M'MANIGAL BEFORE JURY

Tells of Bomb Plot, but McNamaras Refuse Information.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 8.—Ortie E. McManigal, dynamiter, who made the first confession in the McNamara conspiracy, was taken before the federal grand jury. McManigal was the first witness.

Meantime John J. McNamara told Jailer Gallagher that under no circumstances would he give the grand jury any information. It was understood that James B. McNamara will refuse also to give testimony to the jury. Both these men are in jail awaiting transfer to San Quentin prison under the sentences imposed Tuesday.

WOULD DRAIN SWAMP LANDS

Chicago, Dec. 8.—At the National Irrigation congress the delegates interested in drainage of swamp lands decided to form a separate organization to urge the government to care for the overflowed lands of the country as it is doing for the arid lands.

The new organization probably will be called the National Drainage Reclamation congress. The new movement will affect the Mississippi valley, the gulf and the south Atlantic states. There are about 70,000,000 acres of swamp lands which can be drained for about $10 an acre, it is stated.

THE PEOPLE OF YPSILANTI CANNOT AFFORD TO GRANT ANY GAS COMPANY ANY FRANCHISE IT WILL ACCEPT.

THE PEOPLE SHOULD OWN AND OPERATE THE GAS BUSINESS FOR THEIR OWN PERPETUAL BENEFIT, AND NOT PERMIT A NON-RESIDENT PRIVATE CORPORATION, FOR REVENUE ONLY, TO TRAFFIC IN THEIR NECESSITIES.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP IS SELF-REGULATORY.

The editor of Farm and Fireside has recently been making some investigations of the attitude of the state of Wisconsin towards public utility corporations not already owned by the public. We print below some of Herbert Quick's observations. They apply to such public service corporations as telephones, telegraph, gas, light and power companies, railroads, etc:

"In Wisconsin, if you think your gas meter or water meter is wrong, you may ask that the meter be examined, and it will be—by an expert appointed under civil service at the capital of the state. If the meter is wrong it has to be fixed.

"If you are a shipper on a railway in most states you are "afraid to peep" against any imposition. The company will 'get you' if you fight. But Wisconsin shippers are as bold toward railways as toward any other business concern.

"Any citizen's complaint is received and considered in Wisconsin. If the complaint has merit, the company is invited to remedy it. If it refuses, proceedings are necessary. The rate commission has a complaint drawn—it doesn't ask the citizen to hire a lawyer—and files the complaint after the complainant signs it. When the hearing comes on, the citizen has his railway fare and hotel bill paid at Madison to testify. You see, in Wisconsin, the man who tries to make the service better by complaining is not looked upon as a nuisance, but as one discharging a public duty.

"This rate commission has experts going about the state inspecting the services of public utilities all the time. They make photometric measurements of the light. They analyze the water. They measure the output of the power plants and the heat units of the heating systems. They find out how long the average 'wait' is before you 'get your party' on the 'phone—and when anything is wrong they make the companies fix it. They don't wait for complaints.

"And they regulate rates. They have made a physical valuation of all the railways and most of the other public utility plants."

But it took years of fighting by such a strenuous and able leader as Senator LaFollette to get such a law upon the statute books of the state. And such a law is always subject to attack by the big corporations. In fact it invites their lobbying in every legislature to amend or repeal it.

So it seems clear that, when a municipality like Ypsilanti has a chance to own and operate its own gas plant and can save itself for all time from having to rely on the state to give it relief, it is the part of wisdom to grasp the opportunity.

"Public ownership is self-regulatory—by the law of enlightened self-interest."

One View of Morality.

In the middle classes morality consists in being the same as your neighbor until your neighbor is found out. —Morley Roberts in "Thorp's Way."

SHOULD WOMEN VOTE.

No one who keeps posted on the great work being done by women in professional and business life, and, most important of all, in the American home, can for a mement doubt that they would vote wisely.

If they would only guard their own health as carefully as they do their children's they could accomplish even more.

One woman who knows how necessary it is to stay well is Mrs. Herman of North Birmingham (Ala.). Her daughter, Miss Nona, says in a letter: "We have used Vinol in our family for four years. Whenever my mother gets a bad cold or feels weak and run-down she always uses Vinol and it makes her well again. She says Vinol always gives her strength and builds her up."

This delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil is so certain to cure chronic coughs, and build up weak, run-down, sickly people of all ages, that we sell it under a positive promise to give back your money if Vinol does not satisfy you. Try Vinol. Weinmann-Mathews Co., 118 Congress Street.

Miss Augusta Josenhans and Mr. and Mrs. Theo Josenhans have been visiting their sister, Mrs. McBride, of Dundee.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hobbs moved to Milan Tuesday where they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa VanWormer entertained their mother, Mrs. Louis Laflin, last week. Mr. Laflin joined her Sunday and they returned to their home near Ypsilanti.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Reuben Westfall Thanksgiving night at eight o'clock when their daughter Ruth was united in marriage to Ernest Dieterle by Rev. Woolcock of Milan. They were unattended. Miss Grace Rhoades played the wedding march. The presents were many and beautiful. About 75 guests were present. A bountiful supper was served after which the bride and groom left for a short honeymoon. Those from away were Dr. and Mrs. Chase of Ann Arbor, Jake, Moses and William Westfall, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Cook, Mrs. Ed Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Burr Jackson, all of Stockbridge; Mr. and Mrs. James Cadmus and son Monty of Macon; Reuben Gauntlett, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crouse and daughters, of Cleveland, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson and son of Ann Arbor.

Miss Lena McAllister of Detroit, formerly of this place was married Wednesday to Ernest Williams of Detroit. They left on the first train to Clinton to visit the former's sister, Mrs. Walter Cotton, and on their way home visited the former's uncle, Fred Lewis, and family and aunt, Mrs. Emmett Hendershott, and her father, Wm. McAllister. They will return home Sunday evening where they will be at home at 185 Stanley avenue, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Goldsmith entertained Friday Mr. and Mrs. Will Easlick and mother, Mrs. Anna Easlick, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Grady of Caro.

Harry White was home for Thanksgiving.

Don't take medicines containing alcohol or poisonous drugs.

Especially at this time of year to get the impurities out of the system.

The gentle laxative effects of Father John's Medicine make it the best spring tonic and body builder, because it drives out all the waste matter.

Thin, pale people have poor blood. Father John's Medicine makes blood and tissue, because it is made of the same elements that milk is made.

It may some time save your life to know that Father John's Medicine will prevent pneumonia and consumption.

Gas Lighted Windows

UMPIRE O'LOUGHLIN HATES TO HAVE DIGNITY RUFFLED.

"An umpire must be dignified on the field, and if there is one thing that peeves 'Silk' O'Loughlin, the American league arbitrator, it is to ruffle his dignity," says Umpire Billy Evans.

"Catcher Kritchell of the St. Louis Browns put one over on 'Silk' one day that drew a laugh from both teams. O'Loughlin failed to appreciate it.

"In baseball when a player hits the ball squarely some of his teammates sing out, 'That's putting the wood on it, old boy!'

"In the game in question O'Loughlin was working the plate, and a foul tip struck his mask near the top, sailing into the grand stand at great speed.

"'Nice work, "Silk." That's putting the wood to it, old boy.'

"In an instant O'Loughlin's expression changed from pain to astonishment. He glared at the St. Louis player, and the manager of the Browns was relieved when he didn't start a procession of athletes to the clubhouse."

SCIENTIFIC PUGS LAST LONGER

Boxers Who Depend Upon Strength Go Down Quickly.

BAT NELSON IS AN EXCEPTION

Former Champion Has Stood the Gaff Remarkably Well—Abe Attell In Game Many Years—McFarland and Coulon Unmarked.

Abe Attell, champion still after nearly fourteen years in the ring.

Packy McFarland, well and happy, the best in the world at his weight and not a mark to show for seven years as a scrapper.

Johnny Coulon, clear complexion, like that of a society belle, and bantam champion, after six years of mitting.

And again:

Unk Russell, not as clear of brain as he used to be.

Kid Broad, a trifle unsettled.

Battling Nelson, from all accounts, punch groggy.

Abe (Kid) Goodman, not as wise as of yore; Boer Unholz the same.

The above are a few illustrations of the supremacy of science as pitted against bulldog strength and toughness on the battleground of boards known as the "roped arena." On one hand we have four men, champions in their respective classes, who have won their crowns through a preference to box instead of to fight, to use their heads instead of their brawn. Secondly, shift a glance over the list of men who took a punch to give one, who depended on their physical power more than they did upon cleverness. Note the effect of the two courses to pugilistic fame.

A moral in this story is not hard to find—the safest way is the best in fighdom and generally the shortest route to the heights. Moreover, the stay at this choice spot is of longer duration.

One often hears the expression, "He's a rough, tough fellow." There are plenty of rough, tough fellows, but they usually come to the end of their tether long before they should. Toughness is all right and undeniably counts while in the full bloom of its stability, but unless there is something else to endure the hardships or to make them lighter the jaw becomes quite rare and tender.

Abe Attell is a tough fellow, but he utilizes the asset but seldom, for the reason that he has developed scientifically to such an extent that he is rarely forced to fall back on it. Packy McFarland is a sharp contrast. Now, very few would say that Patrick had a firm jaw or could weather a vicious punch. The Chicagoan is fortunate enough as to not need a strong jaw, however, for it is not often that he gets banged hard enough to rock his eyeballs. Packey knows how to protect himself. So do Matt Wells and Johnny Coulon.

These glove pushers, therefore, go on year after year meeting the best and are good for an extensive period of ring activity. Unless you had seen McFarland's picture and were acquainted with him you never would imagine he was a pugilist. His skin is pink and unblemished. His ears are like an ordinary man's who has never seen a fight, and his nose has never been operated upon.

The rest of the good ones have not been as lucky, although they are marked but little. Coulon has a gash under his eye, Wells has a puffed ear, and Attell has a smashed nose. Abe didn't get it in the ring, however. A thrown brick did it.

Battling Nelson was a fighter. Little science had he. It was strength and stamina that he depended on. They served him for many years because Bat was an exception to the general run of tough ones. But take a look at the Dane today. His face has been all battered up, his nose has been broken, and his ears have swollen so abnormally that his hearing is so impaired he can't distinguish the sound of the gong any more.

Unk Russell is said to be demented from the punchings he has received. There are a great many others we might mention. Repeated abuse has driven many a fighter crazy. At most, unless he is a Battling Nelson, the career of a "rough, tough fellow" is not a Marathon one. It is the man with the cleverness that wins out in pugilism, and toughness alone is not worth three hurrahs.

Driver Murphy Has Great Record.

Thomas W. Murphy, who was the largest winning driver over the grand circuit this year with R. T. C., Charlie Mitchell, Lady Isle, Sir R. and other well known harness horses, with $73,000 to his credit, rode 295 miles in his races, not counting the distance traveled while scoring. Of the 295 miles raced 155 were made in time better than 2:10.

Miss Sutton to Play Tennis Abroad.

According to reports from Monte Carlo, Miss May Sutton, the ex-American and English tennis champion, is to visit the Riviera this winter and play in most all the big tournaments there. Managers of the tournaments at Nice and Monte Carlo think they will be able to induce Mrs. Lambert Chambers, the English champion, to play.

HOCKEY SEASON EXCITING CANADA

SEASON WILL SOON OPEN.

Knights of the Stick and Blade Are Preparing For Strenuous Season—St. Michael's Will Not Support Senior Team.

Hockey has again come into its own in Canada. Practice is now in full swing in all the rinks. When the teams take the ice to start off what promises to be the greatest of all hockey seasons numerous changes will be noticed in the makeup of the teams.

Starting with the famous Ottawa team, champions of the world, one change at least will be seen in the lineup. They will be minus the services of Bruce Ridpath, their sterling right wing man, who is struggling between life and death in St. Michael's hospital, Toronto, as the result of being struck by an automobile. Even if Ridpath recovers he will never be able to play hockey again. This is to be greatly regretted, as Ridpath was a true sportsman.

Ridpath's release was bought from the Ottawa team by some Toronto men who are running a team to represent Toronto in the big league. Ridpath was made manager of the new team and was busy hustling for players in his home town when he met with the accident. There are no other changes expected on the Ottawa team, though it is rumored that Le Sueur, the goal tender, will be seen in Montreal.

The Wanderers will be the club with an entirely new lineup, as the Victorias of the Western league have secured five of the Wanderers to play in the west the coming season. There is no protection against raids of this kind in Canadian hockey.

Renfrew has also lost two of its stars to the same team. The Shamrocks, Les Canadien and Quebec will be about the same as last season.

The Toronto team, of course, is at present an unknown makeup, as at present it is without a manager. Then, again, it is not just sure if its new arena will be ready in time to start the season. The Toronto home games may have to be played on Montreal ice for the first month.

In the Western Pro. league Victoria seems to be dead set on landing the championship. After visiting the east and spending a lot of money in buying up seven stars it looks to be a likely challenger for the Stanley cup.

The senior amateur series will this season be without the most famous team ever turned out by Canada—namely, St. Michael's college. This great little team has retired, and the college will be represented only in the Junior C. H. A. series. The two Spratts, Peter and Jack, are the only players left at college. The Parkdale, Eatons and Argonauts will again be in the senior series and will make an interesting group.

Victors, Victrolas, Edison Phonographs

For the music-loving home, one of these instruments would surely please—they present all instruments in one—through them you bring to your home the world's greatest singers; the finest Bands and Orchestras; Operas; Vaudeville Sketches—the thousands of Victor and Edison Records embrace the finest music and entertainment of every class. What a wealth of enjoyment one of these instruments provides—certainly in nothing else of like price could you obtain similar pleasure-bringing value.

There's a Victor, a Victrola or an Edison Phonograph at a price within the reach of every person seeking a beautiful and enduring remembrance.

Victors, $10 to $100
Victrolas, $15 to $200
Edison Phonographs, $15 to $100

These instruments are furnished in beautiful Mahogany, Oak and Walnut cases, artistic in design and finely finished. In such a purchase you add not only to the happiness of one person—the recipient—but to the pleasure of many others as well.

DON'T PUT OFF BUYING

The demand for these instruments increases with each succeeding Holiday season. The great Victor and Edison factories find it almost impossible to supply them in sufficient numbers. We expect, and have prepared for, the greatest business in this department that we have ever known, but we urge you to choose now. We want to supply every person with just the instrument they would desire, but too great delay may mean disappointment—visit our warerooms—make your selection—your first payment need be only for the Records; we will hold the instrument for Christmas delivery.

There is no one but would be pleased with such a gift—no home to which it would not bring added enjoyment.

Notice to the Public

At a meeting of the Directors of The C. W. Powell Mfg. Co., it was decided to issue the remaining shares of the company's stock. This action was made imperative by the greatly increased volume of business and the necessity for providing more space and greater facilities for the production of merchandise. The company are now using thirty-five power machines occupying three thousand square feet of floor space. With the proceeds of the sale of this stock, this space can be increased to forty-six hundred square feet making room for sixty machines and enabling the company to care for practically double the present volume of business. The company now are employing forty five people and by February 1st will have from sixty-five to seventy-five on their pay roll.

It was also decided to pay a 5% annual divident on all the company's stock payable July 1st, yearly. There still remains in the treasury thirteen hundred fifty shares of stock for sale, at the same price as the original issue, namely, 75c on the dollar. This stock carrying this guaranteed dividend makes an unusually attractive investment, really netting the holder nearly 7% on his money. This company is directed by Ypsilanti business men and is growing rapidly along profitable lines. It would seem that its success is assured. Inquire of your Banker of any business man of Ypsilanti or call at the factory and learn of Ypsilanti's growing industry, then subscribe for what stock you feel you can carry. Subscriptions for this stock, which will be sold in lots to suit the buyer, will be received at the company's office or at either The Ypsilanti National or The Ypsilanti Savings Bank.

A Dainty Christmas Present and an altogether new and novel one.

Present your family with a complete new bathroom equipment. It would be not only a useful and acceptable Christmas present but you owe it to your family to give them the best sanitary equipment the market affords.

A kitchen sink is also a most acceptable present, smooth, white, non-absorbent, and like all the "Standard" goods we use in our work, thoroughly sanitary. It makes a present which combines utility with pleasing appearance and shows the thoughtfulness which alone makes a present valued. Ask for catalogues of baths and sinks.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

To Entertain Student Teachers.

Miss Lucia Densmore will entertain the student teachers who have been with her during the quarter Saturday from two to four o'clock.

"Leaders'" Social Postponed.

The social committee of the "Leaders" Bible class of the M. E. church has deemed it advisable to postpone the class social which was to have been given in the church this evening, one week. Next Friday evening the social will be held.

The first regular meeting of the Chemical club was held Thursday, 4 to 5 o'clock, in the lecture room of the department.

Prof. Peet dscussed the "Manufacture of Chocolate and Cocoa," illustrating his remarks with lantern slides and specimens of the materials. Since 1519, when cocoa was first used in Mexico, there has been an increase in the amount of cocoa consumed per capita.

The amount of cocoa consumed in the U. S. per capita in 1860 was three-fifth ounce, but in 1909 it was 18 ounces.

This increase has been brought about by three things: modern methods of preparation, recognition of its value as a food and the reduction in price.

Prof. Peet predicts that cocoa is the coming drink of all civilized nations as it is nearly free from the stimulating ingredient of tea or coffee and possesses a food value.

The topics "How Electricity Aids the Chemist" and "Artificial Rubber" were reviewed by J. F. Shigley.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 9, 1912, at 4 p. m.

Mrs. Llewelyn Renwick of Detroit is spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Allen.

Mrs. A. Garland of Howell is the guest for a few days of Mrs. Marshall Pettit of Ellis street.

Frank Wheeler of Centerville is visiting his parents of this city. Mr. Wheeler who is a graduate of the Normal College, is commissioner of the schools in St. Joseph county.

Flour is the Cheapest and Best of Food

One pound of wheat flour, costing 2 1-2 to 3 cents, yields twice as much nourishment as a pound of meat costing 15 to 30 cents per pound.

These are the official figures. Printed in U. S. Agricultural Bulletin No. 141.

Flour is the only necessity that is still cheap. Two pounds of best butter costs as much as a whole 24 1-2 lb. sack of Stott Flour. Two (or three) dozens of eggs, according to the season, cost the same. Use more and high food prices will cause you little worry. Among the appetizing and wholesome things which are easily made are bread, cakes, pies, tarts, rolls, shortcakes and muffins.

You are sure of success with Stott Flour. It has built up a wonderfully big trade solely upon its merits. We guarantee that it will please you or your grocer is authorized to refund your money.

Every Workingman Gets a Square Deal Here

ENDICOTT-JOHNSON work shoes save the workingmen of this country many thousands of dollars every year.

These are the famous anti-trust shoes—made in the largest independent tanneries and factories in the world and sold direct to the retailer, cutting out profits of the leather trust, the jobber and all other middlemen who handle the ordinary shoe.

Endicott-Johnson shoes wear longer than others and cost less. They combine great strength with the most comfort—the leather being tanned especially for these requirements.

Endicott, Johnson & Co. make more shoes for workingmen than any two other factories in America.

There are several hundred styles designed for different kinds of work at prices ranging from $1.50 to $3.50.

Always ask for the Endicott-Johnson shoe. It means a saving—long wear and the most comfort.

TRIPOLI, WHICH ITALY WOULD SEIZE, IS A LAND OF MYSTERY

Has Been Under Turkish Domination Since 1835---Sultan Uses It as His Siberia.

Turkey's Army Is Greater Than Italy's by 1,000,000 Men, but Her Navy Is Inferior.

THE Turkish vilayet of Tripoli, upon which Italy has designs, occupies the territory on the north coast of Africa, between Egypt and Tunisia on the east and west. To the north is the Mediterranean, and to the south an uncertain boundary line stretches approximately to the tropic of Cancer, in the district of Fezzan, and elsewhere ends indefinitely in the sandy wastes of the Libyan desert. There are five separate regions, known as Tripoli proper, the Barca plateau (Cyrenaica), the Aujila oases, Fezzan and the oases of Ghadames and Ghat, comprising together a territory of 406,000 square miles. The coast line on the Mediterranean extends 1,100 miles. The inhabitants are estimated to number between 800,000 and 1,300,000.

Tripoli became a Turkish vilayet, or regency, in 1835. In the sixteenth century the land fell under Turkish domination, but this sovereignty was scarcely enforced. Civil and military authority is in the hands of the vali, or governor general, under whom are the cantonal or district officers. Arab tribes in the interior recognize still the rule of their sheiks, and Berber assemblies raise taxes. The population is chiefly Berber, but there are many Jews in the country. Of the 6,000 Europeans in Tripoli, exclusive of the 10,000 Turkish troops, the larger number are Italians and Maltese.

Sea carrying trade originating in Tripoli is for the most part in the hands of the Italians. Regular sailings are between Tripoli and Malta and Tripoli and Tunis. The products are mainly agricultural, and total exports, including those of Bengazi, average $5,000,000 yearly. Barley, the staple food of the people, is exported in seasons of plenty, and sheep, goats, oxen and wool, hides and tropical fruits are shipped to all parts of the world. A considerable industry is that of raising ostriches for plumes in the southernmost districts. Tripoli is one of the last strongholds of the slave trade. Captives from central Africa are brought across the desert to the traders in the Barbary cities.

Of the cities of Tripoli, Barca, with 35,000 inhabitants, is the largest. The town of Tripoli is one of the oldest in the world and is the Mediterranean gateway of the Sahara. Lying on the African coast over against Sicily, it is the natural terminus of the caravan routes from the interior. To Tripoli run the three great historic caravan routes. One extends south to Lake Chad, through Fezzan and Bilma, crossing the Sahara at its narrowest point; another turns to the southwest, through the halting places of Ghadames and Ghat, to Timbuktu and Kano, and the third to the southeast, through Sokna to Wadai and Darfur.

The United States has been engaged in war with Tripoli twice. The pirates who had their refuge in Tripoli were the terror of the Mediterranean, and other nations regularly paid tribute for the safety of vessels in those waters. A demand for an increase in the United States tribute of $83,000 was made by the pasha in 1801, and three frigates and a sloop of war were sent to blockade Tripoli. The memorable features of the two wars were the capture of the frigate Philadelphia by the Tripolitans, the gallant exploit of Stephen Decatur, who sailed into the harbor in the little ketch Intrepid and under fire of the forts from the shore burned the Philadelphia, and the picturesque expedition commanded by William Eaton across the desert from Alexandria in an effort to enthrone in Tripoli an exiled pasha. In 1815 Decatur compelled the dey of Algiers to promise to United States ships freedom from molestation without payment of tribute.

Italy's Long Dream.

For the last thirty-five years—in fact, ever since the various petty states of Italy were welded into one united kingdom—it has been the dream of the people subject to King Humbert's rule to possess a foothold on the Mediterranean shores of Africa. The wish is all the more natural seeing that by far the greater portion of the trade between southern Europe and the northern coast of Africa is carried on under the Italian flag and that the commercial interests of Italy along the northern shore of Africa are superior to those of every other European nation. Indeed, throughout the Levant Italian has been from time immemorial the European language most exclusively used in commercial, social and official intercourse.

Tripoli is in every sense of the word a land of mystery. It is out of the beaten track of tourists. In fact, there are no hotels or inns for the accommodation of white people in the city of Tripoli or in any of the towns of the interior. It does not figure in any of the guidebooks of the Levant, and it is difficult indeed to find even any works, geographical or descriptive, dealing with the subject. Yet it is barely a week's journey from Paris and actually within sight of Sicily and of Malta. Foreigners are not welcome. Boats and vessels arriving at Tripoli are forced to land at a quay at the farther end of which a big and ominous looking gate gives access to the essentially oriental city and to the country beyond, and before the foreigner is allowed to pass through this gate he himself and his papers are subjected to a far from friendly and exceedingly strict examination, which as often as not ends in the visitor being requested to betake himself at once back on board the ship which brought him.

No Exiles Return.

The mention of the name of Tripoli is sufficient to cause a shudder at Constantinople, for whenever a prominent citizen or dignitary in Stamboul suddenly vanishes from sight without bidding farewell to his friends and to his family it almost invariably becomes known sooner or later that he has been shipped off by night to Tripoli, where on landing he has been compelled to trudge on foot the thirty days' journey to Murzuk, the capital of the province of Fezzan, which is an oasis in the burning desert of Sahara.

None of the exiles has ever returned thence, and it is fortunate indeed if he is not done to death on the way thither. It is only rarely that one of them manages to get letters to those whom he has left behind, letters that give the most appalling account of the tortures and of the hardships to which he is subjected. Among those who have been thus deported to Tripoli and to Fezzan have been large numbers of Armenian bankers and merchants of Constantinople, who owe their exile in many instances to anonymous accusations or else to mere suspicion.

Tripoli was for many hundreds of years famous as the principal lair of the so called Barbary pirates, or corsairs, who constituted the scourge of the Mediterranean. Lying midway between Tunis and Egypt, it was a flourishing state in the day of the Phoenicians, of the Romans and of the Greeks, under the name of Cyrenaica, until conquered by the Arabs twelve centuries ago. In the sixteenth century the city of Tripoli was held for a few years first by Ferdinand the Catholic of Spain and then by the Knights of St. John, who were expelled, however, by the famous Turkish corsair Dragut.

Fierce Tuareg Tribes.

His descendants governed the state of Tripoli until 1835, when the Turks took advantage of a civil war to seize possession of the country, which ever since has been administered as a province of the Ottoman empire. The frontiers east and west are ill defined, the desert in either direction being swept by those fierce Tuareg tribes which are the most fanatic and bloodthirsty of all the nomad races of the Sahara.

Tripoli has become the headquarters of all the great caravan trade of central Africa. It has the advantage of being several hundred miles nearer the great marts of the interior of the dark continent than either Tunis or Algiers, and almost daily there are caravans leaving for the south laden with cotton fabrics, cutlery, etc., and arriving with esparto grass, ivory and ostrich feathers. Tripoli's most important export, however, is that of black slaves. They reach the seacoast from the great negro empires of Wadai and Bornu, to the south of Fezzan, and are thereupon shipped from the ports of Bengazi, Tabrouk and Tripoli itself directly to Constantinople and to other parts of the Ottoman empire.

Fighting Forces Compared.

In the event of war between Italy and Turkey the Turkish government could put into the field probably a million more men than Italy, but any advantage that might accrue to the latter nation as a result of this numerical supremacy on land would be more than offset by the tremendous advantage that Italy would have on the sea. Italy has a fine navy, against which the Turks could send only a few obsolete battleships and semiarmored cruisers, none of which is to be compared to the big Italian battleships of the San Giorgio, Pisa, Vittorio Emanuele and Benedetto Brin classes.

The latest available data on the military establishments of the world gives to Italy a standing army of 225,000 men in active service and 300,000 in reserve. In addition to this armed force Italy has available for duty, but not organized, an additional 1,200,000 men. It would take several months to whip the unorganized force into shape.

At the head of the Italian army is Lieutenant General Poilio. The army is organized into twelve corps—namely, the corps of Turin, Alessandria, Milan, Genoa, Verona, Bologna, Ancona, Florence, Rome, Naples, Bari and Palermo, each corps commanded by a lieutenant general. Each corps is subdivided into two divisions, each commanded by a lieutenant general.

The same authority on which the Italian military strength is figured puts the standing army of Turkey at 375,000 men with 350,000 in reserve and 2,000,000 men who are of arm bearing age, but unorganized. The Turks are great fighters, but the impression prevails that their equipment in no way compares with that of the Italian armies. Little is known of the men who would assume command of the Turkish armies in the event of war.

In the naval establishments of the two countries all of the advantage is on the side of Italy. Italy has ready for duty two battleships of the San Giorgio type, which displace about 10,000 tons (about the same size as the United States battleship Oregon) two of the Pisa class of 10,118 tons, four of the Vittorio Emanuele class of about 13,000 tons (same as the United States battleship Idaho), two of the Benedetto Brin type of 13,500 tons and four of the Garibaldi type of armored cruisers of 7,400 tons. In addition to these ships she has building—and some are nearly ready for service—three Dreadnoughts of 21,500 tons and one of 19,000 tons.

The Duke of Genoa is the admiral of the Italian navy, his principal subordinates being Vice Admiral Bettolo and Rear Admirals the Duke of the Abruzzi and Grenet.

Against this fleet Turkey would have to trust her fortunes at sea to the twenty-year-old battleships Hairredin Barbarosse and Torgud Reis, of 10,000 tons, the thirty-five year-old 10,000 ton Messuditch and the little 2,806 ton ironclad Feth-I-Bulend, which was laid down forty years ago. Turkey also has some cruisers, the Mahidieh (formerly the Abdul Hamid), the Medjidieh, the Peik-I-Shevket and the Berki-Satvet, all of which are new. The Mahidieh, the largest of the lot, displaces less than 4,000 tons. There are still some other ships in the Turkish navy, but these are the most powerful. It is said that the Turkish government is going to build three Dreadnoughts, but the construction of these has not yet begun.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND

FOR ALL COUGHS AND COLDS

FOR CHILDREN AND GROWN PERSONS

Most effective with Croup and Whooping Cough

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND is quick and reliable. It stops the cough by promptly healing the cause. Contains no opiates. Is indispensable in a family where there are children.

ST. JOSEPH, MICH.

Mrs. Frank Marti, 417 Church St., says: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound saved the life of our baby boy. He contracted a severe bronchial trouble and coughed violently and had spells of coughing and gagging and turned black in the face. I always had great faith in Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and started giving it to the child. In a short time he was relieved and finally the cough was entirely stopped and the coughing and gagging spells ceased bothering him. He got well in a short time, gaining in weight and getting robust. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has many times saved us trouble and this with the wonderful cure in baby's case shows its great merit. We are never without Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. We always keep it in the house."

Rotary Central Needle Sewing Machine

A new sewing machine designed expressly for HEALTHFUL and EASY operation. It's use will help to conserve the natural beauty of woman. The needle is directly in front of the eye, allowing the operator to sit perfectly erect while stitching, thus removing the cause of curved aching, spines, displacement of delicate organs, and strained eyesight from which so many women suffer after working at the machine.

Calendar for Saturday, Dec. 9, 1911
Do What You Can Circle of the Kings' Daughters, 1 p. m., Mrs. Archie Freeman.
Webster Farmers' Club, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Scadin. Election. Simposium dealing with modern newspapers, magazines and books.

I. P. T. Club to Give Party.

Towel Shower is Given.

The towel shower given by the W. C. T. U. which was postponed before the Thanksgiving vacation, was held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. Mahanna, 221 Summit street.

Signal Corps Give Party.

There were seventy-five couples at the party given by the Signal Corps at the Light Guard Armory Thursday evening. Fischer's orchestra gave the musical program. Two solos were rendered during the evening by Geo. Parsons. The Signal Corps men wore their Corps uniforms.

Entertains Embroidery Club.

Mrs. F. S. Fletcher entertained the Superior Embroidery club on Wednesday at dinner. Music enlivened the afternoon. This club has been organized only four weeks, but has already been a source of much enjoyment to the members. It will not meet again until after the holidays.

K. of P. Card Party.

The fourth and last in the series of euchre parties given by the Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor Knights of Pythias was held in this city Thursday evening. The Ypsilanti Knights have been the winners on each of the four evenings. Eleven tables were in play Thursday evening, sixteen of the players coming from Ann Arbor. The total number of points won by the local lodge was 234. On the first evening the Ypsilanti team won by 25 points, on the second 67, on the third 4, on the fourth 107.

Name Good Books.

The Ypsilanti Woman's Club met Wednesday afternoon in the Masonic Temple, with Mrs. John Wirth and Mrs. John Waidner as hostesses. Roll call was answered to by naming books for the most part recently read. These ranged from Zona Gale's "Friendship Village" to "Looking Backward," and Mrs. Erwin gave a brief sketch of the late Myrtle Reed. Mrs. Willard German was received into active membership.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stevens have been guests of Louis and Frank Keenmon and other relatives in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Crane were called to Lansing Friday evening by the death of the latter's sister, Mrs. Wm. Sanborn.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. William C. Horner, Friday morning, Dec. 8, a baby girl. Her name is Esther Louise Horner.

The following are among those who came to Ypsilanti on Thursday to attend the funeral service of the late Daniel L. Quirk: Richard and Fred Quirk, Toronto; Charles Quirk, Flint; James Quirk, Brantford, Ontario; Mrs. Angeline Swift, Lapeer; Mrs. L. S. Trowbridge, Jr., and Miss M. E. Trowbridge, Detroit; Colonel F. J. Hecker, J. E. Griffiths, Mrs. Dr. Kessler, Mrs. Mercur, Richard P. Joy, Harry Joy, Detroit; David Uhl and Benjamin C. Robinson, Grand Rapids; Fred Green, Ionia; and Henry Meier, of Detroit, the architect who designed the First National Bank, this city.

Superintendent Hampton of Owosso has been visiting the training school today.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society met with Mrs. J. L. Hunter on Thursday afternoon. There was an excellent attendance. In talking over the recent self-served supper it was agreed that, socially, it had been an unqualified success, and it was further agreed that this desirable circumstance was largely due to the markedly efficient work of Mrs. P. W. Peet as chairman. All the ladies had heartily responded to the call to assist Mrs. Peet, and it was felt that the whole affair had been of actual benefit to the church. Mrs. French, of the domestic science department at the Normal, gave a delightful and suggestive talk on "Home Making versus House-keeping."

Miss Helen Price attended the theatre in Detroit, Thursday.

Mrs. Lois V. Leetch, who has been spending the past two weeks in Durand, returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. U. Chamberlain spent Wednesday with her daughter in Detroit.

Mrs. Clifford Sanderson is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Carl Cain, of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Thomas Roe of Ann Arbor is taking a course of mineral baths.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Thornton are spending some time in Detroit.

Mrs. J. Thumm, sr., is spending the day with Mrs. Fred Schairer of Ann Arbor.

Robert Howling of the Hammond farm caught an opossum in a trap that had been placed on the farm.

HOW TO TELL IF YOUR HAIR IS DISEASED.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 98% of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want every one whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and prevent baldness.

It is because of what Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store—Weinmann-Matthews Co., 118 Congress street.

FORMER NORMAL STUDENT HAS SUCCESSFUL CAREER IN EVANGELISTIC WORK

Frank Arthur, who is a former Normal College student and married a daughter of D. E. Wilbur of this city, has been together with Evangelist George Bennard, conducting a revival campaign at the Fisher Memorial M. E. church, corner of Gratiot and East Grand Boulevard, Detroit. As gospel singers the two men are especially effectual, and this part of the service is one of the very attractive features of the meetings. People are seen in the congregations from all over Detroit and a Sunday school teacher from Leesville brought his entire class of young men and women, to the number of sixteen, to one of the meetings.

DIED SUDDENLY
"Acute Indigestion the Cause." How Often do we Read this Heading in Our Daily Paper.

Dear reader, if your food does not digest properly, but stays in your stomach, causing much misery, shortness of breath and fermentation, you are the one that should constantly have with you a box of MI-O-NA stomach tablets.

Two little MI-O-NA tablets taken at the first sign of distress would have kept many a death notice out of the papers.

If you have stomach trouble of any kind, start to get rid of it today. One 50c box of MI-O-NA stomach tablets will make you feel like a new man. Two weeks' treatment will make any abused, out of order stomach strong and vigorous.

Guaranteed, mind you, for indigestion, dizziness, biliousness, bad dreams. They clear the skin and brighten the eyes. A box for only 50 cents at Duane Spalsbury's and druggists everywhere.

Fatally Crushed Between Cars.

Hillsdale, Mich., Dec. 8.—R. Stanton died while being brought home from Albion where he was injured. He left here at 3 o'clock as brakeman on a Lake Shore freight run to Lansing. At Albion he went between cars to make a coupling, was caught and terribly crushed. It was thought he might live and was placed aboard train for home, but died at Litchfied. A widow and one daughter survive.

Christmas Umbrellas
For Men, Women and Children.

How Many Umbrellas Lost Since Last Xmas?

Some way or other the gift umbrella is seldom the one lost, mislaid or carelessly left somewhere. "I keep one umbrella for myself and three for my friends," as one of our customers expressed it. Doubtless the "one" was rendered doubly dear by being a remembrance from a friend chosen with just her personal tastes and fancies in mind.
